

Fred Miller of the Montana Safety and Health Bureau will be coming to the Flathead Job Service on a quarterly basis to assist employers with developing a written safety plan. Only one session is needed to complete your safety plan. (2nd Wednesday of each quarter)

Having a written safety plan will:

- help reduce workplace injuries
- improve productivity
- save you money to grow the bottom line.

Fred will implement the Safety Writer program for those wanting to develop a written safety plan. He will bring some laptops for your use and you will need to bring a thumb drive to save your written plan, or you can bring your own laptop with wireless capability.

- It will be extremely helpful before attending to bring your SIC (Standard Industrial Classification) codes with you. You can get your SIC code by calling your commercial insurance agent.

Facilitator: Fred Miller of the Montana Safety & Health Bureau marketed workers' comp insurance to large and small Montana businesses for more than 12 years. Along the way, he learned why it's so important to make safety a top priority, and how implementing a safety culture dramatically impacts the bottom line. Also, he reviews workers' comp group rated plans, and offers tips for further reductions in work comp premiums.
